Bruce,

I had a busy night on Wednesday and day yesterday. Just getting back on track today, and had the information you had requested. All of the premium amounts are calculated as 85% of the annualized premium, which is the district's share (the teachers pay 15%). The premium is the total annual (which should be apparent), inclusive of the employee counts you also asked for. You can do the math in reverse to get the per EE/per month cost I'm sure.

1. Single - 9 Teachers - $66,145.13
2. Double - 13 Teachers - $191,084.30
3. Family - 21 Teachers - $416,710.37

Total — $673,939.80

Sorry it took me a bit to get this over to you. Let me know if you want to discuss anything further on this.

Thanks,

-Zach
